

EDI-ON-DEMAND

Congratulations on winning a contract to supply your products to one of Australia's retail majors. This is the kind of event that can drive your business to the next level! But are you prepared for the capital investment and process changes that will be required to meet your new customer's trading terms?

Are your computer systems EDI-ready and is your warehouse equipped to undertake scan-packing and produce SSCC labels that meet the required format?

Traditionally, scaling up to EDI compliance has been an expensive exercise that required purchasing and installing new software, buying or committing to the lease of additional computer hardware, and making extensive changes to your work processes, possibly under the guidance of a highly paid EDI consultant.

This investment carried significant technical and commercial risk which needed to be considered against the possibility that your new trading relationship might be short-lived.

GamutEDI has been developed to address these risks, available as a web-based application that enables you to meet all of the EDI requirements of your trading partners without significant up-front cost or intrusive changes to your systems and processes.

Designed specifically to meet the needs of businesses that are new to multi-point distribution and supply chain management, GamutEDI is available as a fully-managed service that can be used on a month-to-month basis but easily scales as your business grows.

By paying a low usage-based fee you enjoy all of the benefits of the GamutEDI platform, which include:

- The ability to receive and send electronic messages which meet the requirements of your trading partner
- The ability to undertake efficient scan pack operations using the GamutEDI software to guide your packers efficiently and accurately
- The ability to print barcoded and compliant SSCC labels straight from your web-browser
- Fully maintained server hardware, pro-actively monitored to ensure maximum uptime
- Daily backup of your EDI data to protect against hardware failure or accidental deletion
- A powerful yet easy to use Web interface that can be accessed from anywhere connected to the Internet including your office, your warehouse, your home, your customer's premises, an airport lounge or Internet cafe, or even the back seat of a taxi using a wireless Internet connection
- A unique security profile resulting from our proprietary operating system which has never been hacked and is impenetrable to viruses and other malware
- A database pre-configured and regularly updated with the names and addresses of stores and distribution centres, message interface guidelines and the label formats of retail majors
- Technical support provided by our helpful and experienced local support staff
- Access to competitively priced VAN services and peripheral hardware such as barcode scanners and label printers
- A service backed by a global company with more than 25 years experience helping businesses of all sizes with their EDI needs.

With subscription fees starting at just $99 per month GamutEDI represents simply the best value for money and lowest risk of any product on the market.

GamutEDI is the only fully-functional EDI system in the Australian market delivered entirely through a web-browser and available in the cloud. It takes just minutes to subscribe to the GamutEDI On-Demand service and start enjoying these benefits. That's why we call GamutEDI the Fast Lane to the Supply Chain.
